COMPLAINT

PETITION FOR MANDAMUS

To the Honorable Judges of the United States District Court, Southern District of New York: Petitioner, Julian PENA (A97 506 747), herein petitions this Court through this mandamus action to direct the Federal Bureau of Investigations (hereinafter referred to as the "FBI") and the Department of Homeland Security (hereinafter referred to as "DHS") through its branch the United States Citizenship & Immigration Service (hereinafter referred to as "USCIS") to finalize his background checks and petition for permanent residence forthwith.

This action arises from the respondents' violation of Section 6 of the Administrative Procedure Act, and 5 U.S.C. §555(b), and 28 U.S.C. §1331 and 1361.

JURISDICTION

1. The Administrative Procedure Act requires that administrative agencies have a duty to decide issues presented to them within a reasonable time. 5 U.S.C. §555(b).
2. 28 U.S.C. §1331 confers jurisdiction on the District Courts to review actions of federal agencies. 28 U.S.C. §1331 note 48. Reviewing courts have a duty to compel agency action unreasonably delayed. Neder v. F.C.C., 50 F.2d 182, 172 U.S. App. D.C. 11 (D.C. 1975).

COPY RECEIVED

U.S. ATTORNEY'S SDNY

3. Furthermore, 28 U.S.C. §1361 provides that “district courts shall have original jurisdiction of any action in the nature of mandamus to compel an officer or employee of the United States or any agency thereof to perform a duty owed to the plaintiff.”
4. Under Rule 81 of the Federal Rules of Civil Procedure, writs of mandamus are abolished: “Relief heretofore available by mandamus ... may be obtained by appropriate action or by appropriate action or by appropriate motion under the practice prescribed in these rules”.
5. Section 279 of the Immigration and Nationality Act, 8 U.S.C. Sec 1329 confers jurisdiction upon United States District Courts for review of all cases arising under the Immigration and Nationality Act, and the Administrative Procedures Act provides for judicial review of federal administrative agencies, authorizing the court to compel agency action unlawfully withheld or unreasonably denied.
6. Jurisdiction also lies under the United States Constitution because a benefit has been conferred to the Petitioners and the executive arm of the government is required to assure that the laws are discharged and complied with.

STATEMENT OF FACTS

7. Petitioner, Julian PENA (A97 506 747) , a native and citizen of the Dominican Republic lived and continues to live in New York, New York. He applied for permanent residence through an application filed with the United States Citizenship and Immigration Service in New York, New York on August 16, 2003 as a spouse of a United States citizen which makes him immediately eligible for permanent residence. See Exhibit “A”.
8. Mr. Pena was interviewed with his wife pursuant to the application for permanent residence August 25, 2005 at Garden City, New York. See Exhibit “B”.

9. Thereafter Petitioner's case has remained unfinalized. He sought to find out the status of his case on several occasions through inquiries to the USCIS. None of these inquiries resulted in a conclusion of the case. See Exhibit "C". Thereafter the petitioner sought assistance through his Congressional Representative, Charles Rangel. Mr. Rangel's office was advised that the background checks were still outstanding but no further resolution occurred on the case. Following these numerous inquiries about the case, the USCIS has provided no indication that it is willing to adjudicate his petition.

RELIEF SOUGHT

10. Petitioner faces the possibility that his cases will remain unadjudicated for substantial additional time.
11. Petitioner has sought through numerous inquiries, congressional intervention and self-help to have his case finalized to no avail.
12. Petitioner has no means to compel the USCIS to complete those duties that are required of it by law. All attempts by the Petitioners to have his case finalized have been fruitless indeed.
13. The USCIS and the FBI are the only agency authorized to perform adjudications and the relevant background checks, respectively, and they have failed to do so; the petitioner's petition for adjustment of status has not been completed despite that petitioner has fulfilled all the requirements of the statute and laws and is eligible to become a permanent resident. There is no forum or means other than this mandamus action for petitioner to obtain relief. Because the USCIS case is "pending", petitioner cannot file any appeal within the agency itself, or an administrative appeal.
14. The USCIS and the FBI are statutorily mandated to perform background checks and to adjudicate permanent resident applications. These procedures must be performed within a reasonable time which has not occurred. More than four years have passed since the petitioner filed his application.

15. Further inaction could seriously harm the petitioner, as he is ineligible for numerous benefits afforded to United States permanent residents. For example, he can not leave the country until he becomes a permanent resident. Consequently, this administrative inertia is actionable, and the U.S. District Court has jurisdiction and the power to compel this agency's action and to compel a final adjudication of the petitioner's application. Jeffrey v. INS, 710 F. Supp. 486 (S.D.N.Y.1989), Environmental Defense Fund, Inc. v. Haden, 428 F.2d 1093, 138 U.S. App.D.C. 391(C.A.D.C. 1970).

WHEREFORE, Petitioner respectfully request through this Mandamus action that the United States Citizenship & Immigration Services and the Federal Bureau of Investigations be directed to immediately finalize the necessary background checks and grant the petitioner permanent residence.
